TEACHINGS OF THE NEMBUTSU

What are the Teachings of Jodo Shinshu?

Reverend Shinkai Murakami

Namu Amida Butsu --

As many of you know, Jodo Shinshu is the name of our Buddhist tradition. Recently, both members and non-members have asked me a familiar question: "What exactly are the teachings of Jodo Shinshu?" This often leads to follow-up questions such as, "How is Jodo Shinshu different from other Buddhist traditions like Zen, Shingon, or Jodo, even though they are all Buddhism?"

I hear these questions often, during morning coffee hour, casual conversations in the office, or while chatting with temple friends. Some people are not especially interested, but others are very sincere and keep asking, "Why?" These conversations are always lively, and I sense that many people genuinely want to understand what makes Jodo Shinshu unique among the Buddhist traditions around them. For us as Jodo Shinshu followers, this is an important and meaningful question.

One area where this difference becomes clear is in our relationship to superstition. Superstitions have long been part of human life, and believing in them can often lead to anxiety or fear. In many cultures, superstitions function as warnings, teaching that bad behavior will bring punishment from gods or Buddhas. You may have heard sayings like, "If you do bad things, you will be punished."

Let me share a story to illustrate this way of thinking. In one village, a Jizo statue was enshrined at the entrance. The villagers believed deeply that Jizo protected them from disasters, so they made offerings every day and prayed for blessings. The offerings were never taken away, yet the villagers continued to give thanks faithfully. One very hot day, the offerings suddenly disappeared. This caused great alarm. The villagers could not imagine that anyone among them would steal offerings meant for Jizo. That evening, they discovered a traveler on the temple grounds, pale and suffering from severe stomach pain and diarrhea. He explained that he had not eaten for days and, out of desperation, ate the offerings he found at the village entrance. The villagers immediately concluded, "You were punished by Jizo-sama for stealing the offerings." This belief, that wrongdoing brings divine punishment was passed down as a moral lesson to future generations.

But was this truly punishment from the gods or Buddhas? I believe the traveler simply suffered from food poisoning, having eaten food left in the hot sun too long. This is a natural cause-and-effect relationship. In Jodo Shinshu, we do not interpret such events as divine punishment. We understand causes and conditions as they are, without adding fear or superstition.

This way of thinking also appears around death and memorial services. In Jodo Shinshu, we perform pillow sutras, funerals, cremation services, and memorial observances such as the seventh-day and forty-ninth-day services. However, these rituals are not performed to guarantee rebirth in the Pure Land, nor to prevent punishment. Yet some people believe that if these rituals are not done, misfortune will follow. If punishment truly worked this way, we would all be punished every day.

Do such beliefs not bring unnecessary anxiety and fear into our lives? Of course, when we face suffering or uncertainty, it is natural to want something to rely on. But what matters is what we rely on. Jodo Shinshu teaches us to step away from fear-based beliefs and to live this precious life fully, without being burdened by superstition. For this reason, in Jodo Shinshu we do not use amulets or ofuda, and we do not engage in fortune-telling or rituals meant to frighten people into obedience. Instead, we listen deeply to the Dharma. To listen to the Dharma is to realize that the wisdom and compassion of Amida Buddha have already reached us, just as we are.

When we recite Namu Amida Butsu, we are not calling out in fear or asking for protection. We are listening to Amida Buddha's calling voice. In that moment, we awaken to the realization that we are embraced by infinite wisdom and compassion, walking the path without doubt, anxiety, or fear.

Impermanence Once More

Michael Munekiyo

Having served as Chair of the Wailuku Hongwanji Board of Directors from 1992-1993, from 1999-2000, and most recently, from 2013 to present, one could conclude that I am “environmentally friendly”; been recycled, then re-recycled. Indeed, it has been an invaluable and irreplaceable experience, having had the opportunity to work with and learn from the likes of Meiji Hirose, Kazuichi Hamasaki, Stanley Okamoto, Kazu Sugiki, Wesley Wong, Jr., George Okamoto and so many others. Moments spent with those who I believe were the wisest of our leaders from their generation. Their spirited actions have helped to make Wailuku Hongwanji the wonderful organization that it is today.

Thatsaid,it is now time for another encounter with impermanence. Over the past several months, leadership of the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii (HHMH) asked that I consider the need for organizational and governance succession now that Dr. Warren Tamamoto’s term as President of HHMH is ending in February of 2026. While not an easy decision, I have agreed to be nominated to succeed Dr. Tamamoto. The formal process for confirming the next President of HHMH will take place at the upcoming Giseikai in February 2026.

As a result, I will retire as Board Chair of Wailuku Hongwanji on January 31, 2026. Current Vice-Chair, Gary Murai, has graciously agreed to lead the Board as Chair. Luly Unemori has also graciously agreed to serve as Vice-Chair. I am grateful to both Gary and Luly for their commitment to our temple organization. I will remain on the Board as Director of Activities and continue to lead the multi-purpose building project and succession planning work the Board has been undertaking.

Importantly, I thank Reverend Murakami, our office staff, our current Board members and our entire Sangha for providing me the opportunity to help in our collective efforts to advance Wailuku Hongwanji’s presence in our community. There may have been times where issues generated dialogue with diverging points of view. Nonetheless, you embraced civil discourse and we addressed differences with respect and dignity.

For this, and the many other valuable lessons you all have taught me over the years, I am eternally grateful.

With Gratitude, We Continue

Gary Murai

Whenever I travel to Honolulu for Hawaii Betsuin business, I am often reminded by other temple leaders how fortunate we are at Wailuku Hongwanji to have Mike Munekiyo as our Kyodan President. And I say yes, we are very lucky to have Mike leading us.

Mike has served as a skilled, innovative, and dedicated Chairman of our Board of Directors. His remarkable abilities and unwavering commitment have not gone unnoticed. In recognition of his leadership, the Hawaii Kyodan leaders began to actively recruit Mike to serve as Chair of the Hawaii Kyodan Board and as Hawaii Kyodan President. I understand Mike was reluctant to accept this new position, partly due to his responsibilities here at Wailuku Hongwanji. However, the Hawaii Kyodan leaders were persistent in their efforts. They even asked me to take on a larger role at Wailuku Hongwanji so that Mike could accept the Honpa role.

Initially, my reaction was a selfish one—I said “NO! You cannot have Mike. We need him here on Maui.” Nevertheless, after considerable persuasion, Mike’s strong sense of duty ultimately prevailed, and he accepted. We expect that Mike will be formally elected to serve as Honpa Kyodan President at the 2026 Giseikai.

Although Mike will be taking on even greater responsibility, he is not leaving us behind. He will continue to guide important initiatives such as the recovery of Lahaina Hongwanji and our own capital campaign, among other things. We can still rely on his wise counsel and guidance. We just have to share him with everyone else.

Mike asked if I would assume the role of Chair for the Wailuku Hongwanji Board. I hesitated at first. Very few people can do what Mike does. However, when someone as dedicated as Mike asks for your help, how can you say no? In addition, Mike asked Luly Unemori to serve as the Board’s Vice-Chair, the position I previously held. I am grateful that Luly agreed to take on this responsibility.

Mike leaves behind a significant legacy. He has been a generational leader whose service and dedication have greatly benefited our Sangha. While I cannot promise to lead as well as Mike did, I can promise to do my best.

I begin my new role on February 1, 2026, and I sincerely ask for your continued kokua and support. With the help of Reverend Murakami, our members, temple staff, affiliate organizations, volunteers, and the Board of Directors, we will continue working together to grow our Sangha, maintain our campus, and ensure that Wailuku Hongwanji remains our spiritual home for generations to come.

2026 Gojikai Membership Support

As the new year begins, members are invited to renew their gojikai, the voluntary support that sustains the life of Wailuku Hongwanji Buddhist Temple.

Through gojikai, members help care for the temple grounds, support Dharma services and education, and maintain our connection to the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawai'i, which strengthens Shin Buddhism statewide.

Suggested guidelines are $20–$30 per month for households and $12–$15 per month for individuals, though any amount offered according to one's ability is sincerely welcomed. Gojikai reflects a wish to stay connected to the Sangha and to support the Dharma as it is shared with present and future generations.

Membership includes the opportunity to vote at Sokai, serve on the Board, participate in affiliate organizations, receive temple communications, and enjoy member discounts on Social Hall rentals, Preschool, and Gakuen (Japanese Language School). New members are always welcome, and membership applications and payment information are available through the temple office.

With gratitude, we thank you for helping sustain our temple and Sangha in the year ahead.

Gojikai is offered monthly, quarterly, or annually by members according to their ability.

Farewell to Manzanar Panel Discussion Posted

In the September Headquarters Update, we announced an October screening of Farewell to Manzanar at Hawaii Betsuin, organized and funded in part by the HHMH

Committee on Social Concerns. The film is a feature-length dramatization of Jeanne Wakatsuki's experiences as a Japanese American child imprisoned with her family at Manzanar during World War II. The film helps us better understand the past and provides a valuable lens through which to view related events today. Attendance was 150-200 people.

A video recording of the panel discussion that followed the screening is now available on the HHMH YouTube channel. Panelists were Josh Houston, son of the author and filmmaker; Tina Sablan, an immigrant advocate; Carole Hayashino, President Emerita, JCCH; Ken Inouye, 442nd Legacy Center; and Logan Narikawa, moderator. ### Scout Sunday, February 1st: Honoring Service & Spiritual Growth

Scout Sunday will be observed on Sunday, February 1, beginning at 8:00 a.m. as members of Troop 40 and Cub Pack 40 join the temple community in service at Wailuku Hongwanji Buddhist Temple.

Scout Sunday commemorates the founding of Scouting in America and highlights the shared values of service, character, and spiritual development embraced by faith communities nationwide. Supporting Scout Sunday strengthens our connection to youth and affirms the temple's role in nurturing future generations through both Dharma and community life.

Parents, grandparents, family members, and friends are warmly invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the service.

Special Spring Eitakyo Service, February 14th: Remembering Those Who Came Before Us

Wailuku Hongwanji Buddhist Temple will hold a Special Spring Eitakyo Service on Saturday, February 14, at 6:00 p.m. Rev. Murakami warmly invites members and friends to attend this meaningful evening of remembrance, reflection, and quiet connection.

Eitakyo is an opportunity to pause together, remember those who supported our lives, and feel the gratitude that arises when we reflect on where we come from. As we gather as a Sangha, we are reminded that we do not walk this life alone, and that the bonds between past, present, and future continue through the Dharma. Attending this service allows us to honor those who have passed, while also reflecting on our own lives in this moment. In a busy world, Eitakyo offers a quiet space to breathe, listen, and reconnect with the teachings that sustain us.

Eitakyo, meaning "perpetual sutra," reflects the wish that the Buddha's teachings continue to flow through generations. We invite you to be part of that living tradition by joining us for this special service.

Joan Tamori

Throughout the school year, Dharma School students serve in meaningful roles during Sunday services. Assigned by grade level on a rotating basis, students assist as greeters, kansho ringers, emcees, chanting helpers, offertory collectors, and metta readers, learning responsibility through service.

Students report early to receive their montoshikisho, and at the start of the year participate in a training session to learn temple etiquette, oshoko, kansho ringing, and microphone use. We are deeply grateful to these students for their willingness to serve. As they grow, they take on greater responsibilities and develop confidence, humility, dana, and a strong sense of care for the temple. It is especially heartening to see former Dharma School students carry these lessons into leadership and service beyond the temple. Keep up the wonderful work!

A Busy & Bright Start to the New Year

Jody Vinoray

Wailuku Hongwanji Preschool welcomed 2026 with a strong start, beginning with Registration Day on January 5, when 17 families arrived bright and early at 6:00 a.m. Our students also received free vision screenings, thanks to the Lions Club of Maui!

Looking ahead, preschoolers will enjoy several enriching experiences, including a visit from Storybook Theatre's Capt. N Mark and his "Tiger Shark," the introduction of Nihongo (Japanese language) classes, and a special temple visit with Rev. Murakami.

This month's focus is helping children learn about their community and the many roles within it. Parents are warmly encouraged to connect with the preschool director to explore ways to participate and support these activities.

Gakuen Kakizome

Eri Nomura

Our Japanese Language School welcomed the New Year with 書初め (Kakizome), the traditional first calligraphy practice of the year. Rooted in centuries of Japanese custom, Kakizome is a time to reflect, set intentions, and express hopes for the year ahead through mindful writing. It encourages focus, perseverance, and respect for language and tradition, values central to Japanese culture and learning.

Students began their first class by carefully choosing a kanji that reflected their wishes for the year. The characters they learned to write were: 山 (mountain) for strength, 川 (river) for ease, 和 (harmony), 光 (light), and 道 (path), each carry heartfelt meaning and aspiration, and truly showcase their thoughtful effort.

Families are invited to view the students' Kakizome 作品 at 学芸会 (Gakugeikai) on February 27, an evening of performances, play, and a shared potluck. We look forward to celebrating this meaningful tradition together with our Gakuen community.

Growing Together

December Activities from 4-H, Boy Scouts, and Cub Scouts

Welcome, Scoutmaster Yeh!

Celeste Rabang

I would like to introduce you to Troop 40 Boy Scouts new Scoutmaster, Carl Yeh! Carl joined the boy scouts in September 2023 as an Assistant Scoutmaster. He is also a member of the Order of the Arrow, the National Honor Society of Scouting. He has been to every meeting, every campout, and every service project willing to help out where he can. Carl is an easy-going, hardworking sushi chef at Restaurant Matsu and a proud dad to two energetic boys. Ethan, who is a First Class

Scout, and Mason, who is a Webelos II scout. Though he's from Harrisburg, PA, you'd swear he's a local. When he's not rolling sushi, he's soaking up the beach, cooking something delicious (no surprise there), hanging with his family, or lending a hand with Scouts, always with a smile and a laid-back vibe. We are so happy to have him in Troop 40 where there is no doubt he will continue to shape the boys' lives on their paths to Eagle! (Celeste Rabang will continue to help the troop as the new Committee Chair and Assistant Scoutmaster.)

Sakura 4-H Clubs' Clover Report

Sammy Takamura

Since our last update, the Aloha Girls have been busy with the 4-H County Christmas event hosted by the Maui Girls, Osoji at Wailuku Hongwanji Mission, and a fun educational outing to the Maui Tropical Plantation. Auntie Krystle led a 40-minute tour aboard the Maui Tropical Express, where the girls learned about native Hawaiian plants and participated in coconut husking. The adventure continued with a lively word-guessing game, followed by time feeding ducks and turtles, fun and learning for both girls and parents alike.

In December, the Shining Stars and Friends Forever clubs supported the Salvation Army's Red Kettle Campaign at Maui Lani Safeway during its 130th anniversary. Friends Forever also joined the General Cleanup in the Social Hall and are preparing for an upcoming service project at Waihe'e Coastal Refuge, where they will help weed and plant native species. The Sakura clubs look forward to a bright and meaningful year ahead with everyone.

Sharing Cheer & Building Skills

Paul Petro

In December, Pack 40 Cub Scouts brought holiday cheer to the residents of Roselani Place by singing and sharing smiles with our kūpuna. The cubs also enjoyed their annual holiday party, filled with festive games and a fun gift exchange. In January, Pack 40 focused on personal safety, learning important skills such as the Heimlich maneuver, basic first aid for bug bites, emergency preparedness, and strategies for personal and stranger safety. These activities helped build confidence while teaching the cubs how to care for themselves and others.

Moments Shared as a Sangha

Gwen Hiraga

BWA members remained actively engaged throughout the season, joining together for the December general temple clean-up and the semiannual care and polishing of the altar ornaments. Members also gathered for the New Year's Eve Service, welcoming 2026 as a community while enjoying fireworks and refreshments afterward. In January, members came together once again for the Annual Meeting and Shinnenkai, sharing a delicious dinner and desserts in a warm spirit of fellowship and gratitude.
